OPERATING POLICIES

POLICY FOR THE PREVENTION OF PSYCHOLOGICAL OR SEXUAL HARASSMENT AND FOR THE PROCESSING OF COMPLAINTS IN THE WORKPLACE

1. OBJECTIVES

The purpose of this policy is to affirm The Students' Representative Council of Bishop's University's commitment to prevent and stop any situation of psychological or sexual harassment within the organization, including any form of discriminatory harassment. It also aims to establish the principles of intervention that are applied within the organization when a harassment complaint is filed, or a situation of harassment is reported to the employer or their representative.

This policy is meant to be complementary in nature to the Bishop's University Policy on Harassment and the Policy on Sexual Violence. These policies apply to all those employed and elected within the Students' Representative Council. Consequently, disciplinary action taken within the SRC does not replace or supersede sanctions or disciplinary action from the University.

2. SCOPE

This policy applies to all employees and elected representatives⁹, at all levels, and includes the following locations and contexts:

- Work areas (SRC offices, Doolittle's, the Gait, Student Success Centre);
- Common areas;
- Any other place where people must be in the course of their employment (e.g. meetings, training, travel, social activities organized by the employer);
- Communications by any means, technological or otherwise.

3. DEFINITION

The Act Respecting Labour Standards defines psychological harassment as¹⁰:

“Any vexatious behaviour in the form of repeated and hostile or unwanted conduct, verbal comments, actions or gestures, that affects an employee's dignity or psychological or physical integrity and that results in a harmful work environment for the employee. For greater certainty, psychological harassment includes such behaviour in the form of such verbal comments, actions or gestures of a sexual nature.

A single serious incidence of such behaviour that has a lasting harmful effect on an employee may also constitute psychological harassment.”

The definition includes discriminatory harassment related to one of the grounds provided for in the *Charter of Human Rights and Freedoms*¹¹.

The notion of harassment must be distinguished from other situations such as interpersonal conflict, work-related stress, difficult professional constraints or the right to manage (managing absenteeism, organization of work, disciplinary measure, etc.).

4. POLICY STATEMENT

The Students' Representative Council of Bishop's University does not tolerate or admit any form of psychological or sexual harassment in its business, whether:

- By managers to employees;
- Between colleagues;

⁹ All elected members are required to sign a release disclosure form such that if they are found to be in breach of University policy, the Vice-President of Student Affairs will inform one of the designated responsible SRC persons in order that appropriate action can be taken.

¹⁰ See Appendix I for more details

¹¹ Grounds of discrimination are listed in Appendix I

OPERATING POLICIES

- By employees to their superiors;
- From any person associated with it: representative, customer, user, supplier, visitor or other person.

Any behaviour associated with harassment may result in disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal.

The Students' Representative Council of Bishop's University is committed to taking reasonable steps to:

- provide a workplace free of all forms of harassment in order to protect the dignity and the psychological and physical integrity of individuals;
- disseminate the policy so it is accessible to its entire staff, by making it available on the www.busrc.com website, and providing a copy for new employees to read at the time of onboarding;
- prevent or, as the case may be, stop situations of harassment by:
 - a. putting in place a procedure for handling complaints and reports related to situations of psychological or sexual harassment,
 - b. ensuring everyone understands and respects the policy,
 - c. promoting respect among individuals
 - d. offering training to employees, including but not limited to, bystander intervention training.

5. EXPECTATIONS OF STAFF

It is the responsibility of all staff to adopt behaviours that promote the maintenance of an environment free from psychological or sexual harassment.

6. TREATMENT OF COMPLAINTS AND REPORTS

Whenever possible, a person who believes that they are being psychologically or sexually harassed, should first inform the person concerned that their behaviour is undesirable and that the behaviour should be stopped. The individual should also note the date and details of the incidents, as well as the steps they took to try to resolve the situation.

If the individual does not wish to take this step or if the harassment continues, the employee should report the situation to one of the responsible persons designated by the employer so that problem behaviours and the necessary resources can be identified.

A complaint can be made verbally or in writing. The alleged behaviour and details of incidents should be described as accurately as possible, so that action can be taken quickly to stop the situation.

The responsible persons¹² designated by the employer are as follows:

Erin Mallory, General Manager
819-822-9600 x 2298

Jody Goodsell, Manager of Operations & Services
819-822-9600 x 2833

Any person who witnesses an incident of harassment is encouraged to report it to one of the responsible persons listed above.

¹² Details of the role of the responsible people are indicated in Appendix 2.

OPERATING POLICIES

7. PRINCIPLES OF INTERVENTION

The Students' Representative Council of Bishop's University agrees to:

- assume responsibility for handling the complaint or report as soon as possible;
- preserve the dignity and privacy of the individuals involved, that is, the person who made the complaint, the person who is the subject of the complaint, and the witnesses;
- ensure that all concerned are treated with humanity, fairness, and objectivity, and that adequate support is provided;
- protect the confidentiality of the response process, including information about the complaint or report;
- offer the individuals concerned, with their agreement, a meeting with them to resolve the situation;
- Conduct a prompt and objective investigation, as required, or assign responsibility to an external stakeholder. The persons concerned will be informed of the conclusion of this process. If the investigation cannot establish that there has been unacceptable behaviour, all material evidence will be retained for two years and subsequently destroyed;
- take all reasonable steps to resolve the situation, including, but not limited to, appropriate disciplinary action.

Anyone who breaches the harassment policy will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action. The choice of action will take into account the seriousness and consequences of the action (s) as well as the previous record of the person who posed them.

A person who lays false charges for the purpose of causing harm is also subject to appropriate disciplinary action.

In handling and resolving a workplace harassment situation, no one should suffer prejudice or be retaliated against by the employer.

OPERATING POLICIES

SEXUAL MISCONDUCT POLICY¹⁵

1. Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to affirm The Bishop's University Students' Representative Council (BUSRC) commitment to prevent and stop any situation of sexual misconduct within the organization. It also aims to establish the principles of intervention that are applied within the organization when a sexual misconduct complaint is filed, or a situation of sexual misconduct is reported to the employer or their representative.

This policy is meant to be complementary in nature to the Bishop's University Policy on the Prevention of Sexual Violence, as well as the BUSRC's Safer Spaces Policy. These policies apply to all those employed and elected within the BUSRC and all BUSRC spaces and events. Consequently, disciplinary action taken by the BUSRC does not replace or supersede sanctions or disciplinary action from the University.

We recognize that systemic oppression and power structures are present throughout all spaces. The BUSRC is located on unceded lands of the Abenaki First Nations and Wabanaki Confederacy. The names of many towns, lakes, and rivers of the area are of Abenaki origin. As an organization, we operate within a context of ongoing colonization and commerce. Decolonization and active anti-racism are integral in creating safer spaces free of sexual misconduct. By allowing the most dominant power structures to be reaffirmed in spaces, we become complicit in actively harming and oppressing those who are most vulnerable to power structures. We must be intentional with our actions, and act in unity to put an end to sexual violence throughout every BUSRC governed space, in the greater context of Bishop's University.

2. Definitions

2.1 "Consent" is the continuous act of all parties present enthusiastically participating in a given activity, including but not limited to engaging in sexual relations with another person. It cannot be assumed or implied from silence, passivity, or lack of resistance alone. It must be continuous and can be withdrawn at any point. Consent to one form of sexual activity does not imply consent to other forms of sexual activity. It is not given if there is any kind of coercion present, including force (physical, emotional, verbal, etc.), intimidation, manipulation, blackmail or pressure. Consent is not given if the individual(s) is incapacitated by alcohol, drugs and/or prescribed medication, and/or is asleep/unconscious. It is not given if there is a power dynamic between parties. The existence of a current or previous dating, marital or sexual relationship is not sufficient to constitute consent to additional sexual activity.

2.2 "Disclosure" is when a survivor comes forward to tell their experiences and are looking for support, assistance or accommodation.

2.3 "Sexual Misconduct" is any unwelcome behaviour of a sexual nature.

2.4 "Sexual Violence" is any form of violence that is sexual by nature. This violence can both be physical or psychological and can be carried out either through any form of sexual means or by targeting sexuality. Sexual violence includes, but is not limited to: sexual assault, sexual harassment, stalking, stealthing (the removal of a condom without the consent of the partner), indecent exposure, voyeurism, degrading sexual imagery, unsolicited sexual images or videos sent to an individual without their consent, distribution of sexual image(s) or video(s) of a community member without their consent, contaminating one's drink with the intention to achieve sexual advances, and cyber harassment or cyber stalking of a sexual nature or related to sexuality.

2.5 "Sexual Assault" is an offence under the Criminal Code of Canada and is defined as any unwanted act that is sexual in nature imposed by one person upon another and includes such activities as kissing, fondling, oral or anal sex, intercourse, or other forms of penetration, without consent. Sexual assault can occur between strangers, acquaintances, perpetrated by someone known to the survivor or can occur in a dating relationship, between spouses or in any other form of relationship.

2.6 "Sexual Harassment" is unwanted communication that is sexual in nature or targeted at sexuality. It may consist of personal questions about people's sex lives, unwelcome sexual invitations, requests or remarks about someone's appearance and/or sexual comments or remarks about an individual's sexuality like their sexual orientation, gender identity and gender. This behaviour can be one incidence or may be continuous.¹⁶

3. Scope

3.1 This policy applies to all those employed and elected within the BUSRC and all attendees of the BUSRC operated spaces listed below. This also extends to all events, activities or meetings that occur in a virtual capacity.

3.2 This policy applies to the following locations:

- The Gait
- Toast Radio
- BUSRC Offices
- Any other place where people must be in the course of their employment (e.g. meetings, training, travel, social activities organized by the employer)
- Student Success Centre
- BUSRC Extracurriculars
- BUSRC committees
- Locations of all BUSRC run events

4. Training

All employees and elected members of the BUSRC are required to take consent culture training as require under the BUSRC's Consent Culture Training:

The Bishop's University Students' Representative Council (BUSRC) is committed to creating safer environments for all students and community members. As an organization that oversees and manages The Gait, Toast Radio, the Student Success Centre, major events such as Orientation week and Winterfest, as well as all BUSRC extracurricular groups on campus, we want to ensure that all members, whether elected, hired or volunteer, are properly equipped with the tools needed to help shape a campus culture that is safer for all. This policy will make consent culture training mandatory for all BUSRC members, on an annual basis.

OPERATING POLICIES

As specified in the “Aims” section of the policy, this training seeks to “expand knowledge in the following areas: Rape culture, Consent, Toxic Masculinity and Bystander Intervention.”¹⁷

5. Disclosures

5.1 BUSRC Managers, BUSRC president and BUSRC VP student life are trained in receiving disclosures of sexual misconduct. Any person who has been involved in an incident of sexual violence is encouraged to share their story. Remember that it is never their fault and to take a survivor-centric approach.

5.2 A person who makes a disclosure is not obligated to file a formal complaint with the BUSRC.

5.3 Helpful attitudes when receiving a disclosure¹⁸:

5.3.1 There is no perfect formula for receiving a disclosure of sexual violence but you can adopt these following 7 attitudes to ensure the survivor feels supported. Receiving a disclosure of sexual violence can be challenging, you are not alone, please contact counselling services or an BSURC member if you would like emotional support for yourself after having received a disclosure.

5.3.2 Believe the person. They do not have to prove to you that they were sexually assaulted. Avoid negative comments about the person’s integrity. Do not doubt their word.

5.3.3 Listen without judgement and practice active listening. Offer support, be present, and make yourself available. Avoid asking biased or loaded questions.

5.3.4 Respect the person’s pace, story, and language. Respect the victim’s story. Let them share with you in their own words and disclose as little or as much as they are comfortable sharing. Do not ask questions about the aggression. The victim’s needs are always more important than the incident.

5.3.5 Receive the disclosure without amplifying or minimizing it. Even though victims do not all react the same, it is fair to say that sexual assault can have negative effects on one’s psychological and physical integrity. It is extremely important not to minimize what the person is going through, and not to compare their situation with that of others.

5.3.6 Maintain confidentiality of the survivor. Confirm that you will keep their disclosure discreet as wished by the survivor.

5.3.7 Focus on validating their feelings and emotions when responding to their disclosure and avoid strong reactions.

5.3.8 Help the survivor determine their needs and respect their need for autonomy.

6. Support

6.1 All students deserve respect and dignity, regardless of race, culture, ethnicity, language, ability, sex, sexuality, gender, or socio-economic status.

6.2 The BUSRC can provide resources for support, as well as informing survivors about their options available.

6.3 BUSRC Managers, BUSRC president and BUSRC VP student life can provide support to survivors who are going through the university's formal complaint process.

OPERATING POLICIES

7. Formal Complaints within the SRC

A person who is facing a situation of sexual misconduct can come forward to the BUSRC and make a formal complaint of these behaviour(s) to the BUSRC. This complaint can be made verbally or in writing to Erin Mallory, General Manager 819-822-9600x2298 and/or Jody Goodsell, Manager of Operations & Services 819-922-9600x2833.

It is important to note that this policy operates outside Bishop's University's policy for the prevention of sexual violence and in effect only applies to BUSRC run spaces. Nothing in this policy is intended to discourage or prevent a person from filing or pursuing a complaint with another body, such as the police and/or the university, and they will have the full support of the BUSRC. The BUSRC may suspend the process if a formal complaint has been filed with an external body at the request of the complainant or if conflict of investigation and due process occurs.

8. Resolutions

This policy will be enforced at the discretion of the BUSRC, including its managers, executive members, club/committee leads, and attendees within BUSRC spaces. Depending on the degree of seriousness, consequences for violating the Policy include but are not limited to:

- Temporary or permanent banning from extracurriculars
- Temporary or permanent removal from job or position
- Temporary or permanent banning from BUSRC Events
- Temporary or permanent banning from the Gait in collaboration with the Dean of Students' Affairs
- Attending mandatory training (such as sensitivity training, bystander intervention, It Takes All of Us, trauma informed training etc.)

In order for an elected member to be removed from their position, the Procedure for Impeachment (SRC Bylaw 15.3) must be followed.

9. Confidentiality

9.1 The BUSRC ensures that the process of formal complaints and disclosures remain confidential.

9.2 No survivor shall be subject to signing a nondisclosure agreement.

9.3 If the receiver of a disclosure or formal complaint deem that there is community risk, they may be inclined to bring the disclosure or formal complaint to the police with the consent of the survivor.

10. Policy review

This policy will be subject to review, every three years, by the BUSRC Executive Team, the Sexual Culture Committee and the BUSRC EDI Committee.

SAFER SPACES POLICY²⁰

1. Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to affirm The Students' Representative Council of Bishop's University's commitment to creating safer environments for all students and community members. It also aims to establish the codes of conduct in creating safer spaces and adhere to the principles of intervention that are applied within the organization. This policy is meant to be enforced. If a student is found to not adhere to this policy, they may be subject to consequences outlined in Section 5. This policy applies to all Students' Representative Council spaces and events. Consequently, disciplinary action taken by the SRC does not replace or supersede sanctions or disciplinary action from the University.

We recognize that systemic oppression and power structures are present throughout all spaces. The Bishop's University Students' Representative Council is located on unceded lands of the Abenaki First Nations and Wabanaki Confederacy. The names of many towns, lakes, and rivers of the area are of Abenaki origin. As an organization, we operate within a context of ongoing colonization and commerce. Decolonization and active anti-racism are integral in creating safer spaces. By allowing the most dominant power structures to be reaffirmed in spaces, we become complicit in actively harming and oppressing those who are most vulnerable to power structures. Therefore, this policy takes an intersectional approach to ensure that people of all cultures, ethnicities, sexualities, genders, religions, and socio-economic statuses can participate in spaces built around inclusivity and anti-oppression. We must be intentional with our actions and create safe and brave spaces through mutually respectful dialogue.

This policy is aimed to uphold and compliment the SRC's Sexual Misconduct Policy.

2. Definitions

When cultivating safer spaces, it is important to understand the following definitions.

2.1. "Safer Spaces" are places/environments in which a person or group of people may feel confident that they will not be exposed to physical or emotional harms such as discrimination, criticism, or harassment (Oxford Dictionary). A safe space is often used to voice common narratives, and for marginalized groups to safely convey their physical well-being. This refers to ideology and physical safety of members within spaces.

2.2. "Brave Spaces" work toward engaging in civil controversy such that ideological isolation does not occur. Accountability of intentions, impacts, and respect are key in fostering brave spaces. Open dialogue about hard topics help dispel biased narratives in ways in which all sides can be expressed without fear of exclusion or discrimination.

2.3. "Consent" is the continuous act of all parties present enthusiastically participating a given activity, including but not limited to engaging in sexual relations with another person. It cannot be assumed or implied from silence, passivity, or lack of resistance alone. It must be continuous and can be withdrawn at any point. Consent to one form of sexual activity does not imply consent to other forms of sexual activity. It is not given if there is any kind of coercion present, including force (physical, emotional, verbal, etc.), intimidation, manipulation, blackmail or pressure. Consent is not given if the individual(s) is incapacitated by alcohol, drugs and/or prescribed medication, and/or is asleep/unconscious. It is not given if there is a real or perceived power imbalance between parties. The existence of a current or previous dating, marital or sexual relationship is not sufficient to constitute consent to additional sexual activity. Consent is also necessary when repeating information or disclosures when given in confidence by an individual. (2.4. “Intersectionality” is the interconnected nature of different aspects of our identities and backgrounds, such as race, gender, sex, socioeconomic class, physical ability, and so on. An intersectional lens asks us to recognize that all forms of oppression are linked, and as such, people have unique experiences of marginalization and discrimination.

²⁰ Adopted by BSR March 20, 2022

2.5. “Mutual Respect” is recognizing intersectionality within groups and between individuals. It is acknowledging that people may not agree but are still deserving of kindness. This includes recognizing customs, cultures, ways of being, believing, knowing, and doing as valid and equal.

2.6 “Privilege” is an unearned advantage that someone may obtain based on their static socio-economic conditions. Characteristics such as gender, race, income, sexual orientation, or physical ability can influence how much privilege one has access to in different contexts, meaning that oppression is the privilege that others lack. Social systems of inequality such as racism, sexism, or ableism contribute to and maintain the oppression of others.

2.7 “Colonization” is the violent process of settling onto land and establishing control over Indigenous populations. Colonialism is related to imperialism, which is the process of using force and influence to dominate another country or people culturally and economically. Colonization and colonialism involve legislated acts and policies to displace Indigenous populations, dispossess them of land and resources, and invalidate or work to erase their languages, cultural practices, or ways of knowing in ongoing acts of epistemicide. Modern day colonization and colonialism do not always rely on overt acts of violence but on cultural or economic violence to create settler apathy to such acts of violence and to force Indigenous assimilation. In Canada, this usually means that Western (European) ways of being, believing, knowing, and doing are presented as the standard or norm, and other ways of being, knowing, or doing are presented as “Other”, alternative, inferior, or invalid. As part of the ongoing colonization of Canada, arrivants such as immigrants and refugees, have had to adapt to these Eurocentric norms.

2.8 “Decolonization” is the process of undoing colonization. In the Canadian context, it is often related to Indigenous populations reclaiming and restoring culture, land, relationships etc., both independent and with support of non-Indigenous people.²¹ Decolonization can generally be interpreted as a meaningful changes in structure and power to challenge and rebalance the Western, Eurocentric default.

2.9 “Discrimination” is unjust or prejudicial treatment of people based on socio-economic conditions, or socially imposed categories/identities such as race, gender, ability, or sexual orientation. Discrimination is usually done from a position of privilege. It is often rooted in both conscious and unconscious prejudices and biases that need active unlearning

2.10 “Microaggressions” are subtle yet harmful verbal or behavioural attitudes and actions towards individuals that stem from conscious and unconscious biases. They are often negative or hostile attitudes towards stigmatized or marginalized groups and over time, affect the target’s mental and physical wellbeing, their working relationships, and their ability to thrive in their professional environment.

2.11 “Misgendering” is the use of the wrong name, pronoun or form of address for a person’s gender.

OPERATING POLICIES

3. Scope

This policy applies to all attendees of the SRC operated spaces listed below. This also extends to all events, activities or meetings that occur in a virtual capacity. This policy will be subject to review, every three years, by the SRC Executive Team, the Sexual Culture Committee and the SRC EDI Committee.

This policy applies to the following locations:

- The Gait
- Toast Radio
- SRC Offices
- Any other place where people must be in the course of their employment (such as meetings, training, travel, social activities organized by the employer)
- Student Success Centre
- SRC Extracurriculars
- SRC Committees
- Locations of all SRC run events

4. Expectations

All attendees of SRC spaces are responsible for ensuring a safer and brave space for all. In the practice of implementing these expectations, individuals should act through the lense of trauma-informed practices: safety, choice, collaboration, trustworthiness and empowerment. The following are examples of behaviours we encourage and can be selected based on the appropriate context:

4.1 Practicing Consent: Making sure you are achieving enthusiastic consent throughout any given action and recognizing that passivity or silence is not consent. It is important to seek consent when asking if people have the emotional space to take part in heavy conversations or disclosures. When people disclose stories, experiences, and information in confidence, it is important to not share or repeat the story without the individual's consent.

4.1.1. If violation occurs, complainant can contact SRC managers and the respondent will, at the discretion of the managers, be assigned to retake Bystander Training, It Takes All of Us and/or Consent Culture Training.

4.2 Being Aware of Privileges: The things you say affect other people. Therefore, think about your words and thoughts before speaking and reflect on your own privileges before you enter a space.

4.3 Calling People In Not Out: In the creation of brave spaces, it is important to call people into respecting each other by allowing them to be a part of the conversation. Do not be purposefully offensive in a conversation, and simultaneously recognize that people are not acting with malicious intent. Practice mutual respect, and if an individual is acting in an offensive way, it is acceptable to pull them aside to have a conversation.

4.4 Prioritize Ongoing Learning: Be open to learning and understanding that you do not know everything. It is always okay to ask questions. If you have questions and want to know more, seek out the resources in section 5 of this policy.

4.5 Community Accountability: It takes everyone to create equitable, safe, and anti-oppressive spaces. We must hold each other accountable to cultivate healing and move forward together.

4.6 Speak From Personal Experiences: Always be mindful of mutual respect. Use "I" statements rather than "you/we/us" such that you do not assume everyone has had the same experiences as you.

OPERATING POLICIES

Do not assume your opinions to be facts, and do not generalize. Do not make assumptions about anyone's identity.

4.7 Prohibiting Oppressive Behaviours: Oppressive behaviours will not be tolerated. Examples of oppressive behaviours include, but are not limited to:

4.7.1 Offensive, derogatory, threatening, aggressive, or silencing comments related to gender, sexuality, ability, appearance/body, language, age, race, ethnicity, religion, socio-economic status, etc.

4.7.1.1 If violation occurs, complainant can contact SRC managers and the respondent will, at the discretion of the managers, be assigned to take the Unconscious Bias Training.

4.7.2 Using slurs

4.7.2.1. If violation occurs, complainant can contact SRC managers and the respondent will, at the discretion of the managers, be assigned to take the Unconscious Bias Training.

4.7.3 Wearing offence or culturally appropriative clothing

4.7.3.1. If violation occurs, complainant can contact SRC managers and the respondent will, at the discretion of the managers, be assigned to take the Unconscious Bias Training.

4.7.4 Persistent microaggressions

4.7.3.1. If violation occurs, complainant can contact SRC managers and the respondent will, at the discretion of the managers, be assigned to take the Unconscious Bias Training.

4.7.5 Physical contact without consent

4.7.4.1. If violation occurs, contact security for immediate removal. Complainant can contact SRC managers to file a complaint and consequences for the respondent can include, but are not limited to:

- Temporary or permanent banning from extracurriculars
- Temporary or permanent banning from SRC run Events
- Temporary or permanent banning from the Gait in collaboration with the Dean of Students' Affairs
- Volunteering to regain access to SRC spaces
- Attending mandatory training (such as sensitivity training, bystander intervention, It Takes All of Us, trauma informed training etc.)

4.7.6 Non-consensual photography or recording

4.7.5.1. If violation occurs, call security for immediate elimination of content from the device. Complainant can contact SRC managers and the respondent will, at the discretion of the managers, be assigned to retake Bystander Training, It Takes All of Us and/or Consent Culture Training.

4.7.7 Deliberately misgendering or using 'dead names'

4.7.6.1. If violation occurs, complainant can contact SRC managers and the respondent will, at the discretion of the managers, be assigned to take Gender Sensitivity Training.

4.7.8 Violence, harassment, stalking or intimidation, including when it is implicit or implied.

OPERATING POLICIES

4.7.7.1. If violation occurs, contact security for immediate removal. Complainant can contact SRC managers to file a complaint and consequences for the respondent can include, but are not limited to:

- Temporary or permanent banning from extracurriculars

- Temporary or permanent banning from the Gait in collaboration with the Dean of Students' Affairs
- Volunteering to regain access to SRC spaces
- Attending mandatory training (such as sensitivity training, bystander intervention, It Takes All of Us, trauma informed training etc.)

4.8 Respecting the physical space

Respect and understand that individuals have personal physical space, and not everyone will have the same boundaries. Boundaries, like consent, can shift in change. Always ask before entering somebody else's personal bubble and regularly check in to ensure that comfort is maintained.

4.8.1. If violation of respecting personal space is severe, contact security for immediate removal. Complainant can contact SRC managers to file a complaint and consequences for the respondent can include, but are not limited to:

- Temporary or permanent banning from extracurriculars

4.8.2. If violation of respecting personal space is not severe, complainant can contact SRC managers and the respondent will, at the discretion of the managers, be assigned to retake Bystander Training, It Takes All of Us and/or Consent Culture Training.

Respect the physical place of meeting, by not vandalizing or stealing from the place or other individuals.

4.8.3. If violation of respecting the physical space, contact security and they will act accordingly. <mailto:srcgmo@ubishops.ca> <mailto:srcgma@ubishops.ca> <mailto:srcpres@ubishops.ca> <mailto:srcstu@ubishops.ca> <mailto:slinden@ubishops.ca> <mailto:security@lists.ubishops.ca>
